INTRODUCTORY.

The Cape Peninsula has many characteristics distinguishing it from other South African Coast Resorts, all calculated to attract, both as visitors and residents, the best social classes. It is the object of this brochure to indicate briefly to those contemplating a change the many advantages which the Cape Peninsula affords as a place of permanent abode or temporary sojourn. Of unique geographical situation, and abounding in natural beauties, there is no other resort which can so adequately meet the wants of every class. Though tastes may differ according to temperament and mood, there is much to be found in the Cape Peninsula to please every disposition. The over-worked in need of quietude and sunny calm ; the holiday-maker, content with a pleasant spot to idle in ; the rural dweller in search of stimulating intercourse and amusement ; the children who are strengthened and gladdened ; the motorist and yachtsman ; the mountaineer and fisherman ; the Cape Peninsula provides for all, and there is endless variety as fascinating as the ever-changing cloud over Table Mountain, as refreshing as the glows of sunset over the sea.

An Up-to-date City.

CAPE TOWN TO-DAY.

The first consideration of those engaged in the momentous question of deciding where to spend a holiday is that which concerns the healthiness of the resort which it is proposed to visit. Cape Town will compare most favourably with any other city in the world. Its water supply, a most important feature in its relation to public health, and its drainage system, have been perfected at enormous cost.

Founded by the first Dutch Governor, Van Riebeeck, in 1652, it is with one exception the oldest Dominion City in the British Empire, and possesses a romance and history of which its citizens are justly proud. To the bountiful provisions by Nature of a marvellously equable and genial climate, and exhilarating rural surroundings, the enterprise of man has added spacious streets, luxurious hotels, well-appointed houses, an up-to-date pier and promenade, elegant statuary, public buildings of modern architecture, beautiful public gardens, museums, art galleries and libraries, the Cape Town Orchestra, with countless other attractions and places of interest, the result being a bright and pleasant resort which irresistibly appeals to the jaded worker in search of restful quiet and health-giving recreation and amusement.

PUBLIC CATERING.

In no detail of public catering is Cape Town lacking. It continues to progress steadily in its development of utilities and wholesome enjoyments, and now offers to visitors advantages unsurpassed throughout South Africa. An important point for consideration, when the inland dweller is planning a holiday, is the question of hotel accommodation. In this connection the Cape Peninsula, with its numerous first-class hotels and well-appointed boarding-houses, holds a distinct advantage, and in spite of the rapid increase in the number of visitors during recent years the greatest and least may rely on receiving attention. The charges are reasonable and will compare most favourably with those of other coast towns.

Intending visitors should apply to the Secretary, Publicity Association, for copy of the Hotel and Boarding-House Register, published in April and October for the Winter and Summer Seasons.

CLIMATE. For those seeking relaxation from professional and business cares, and complete change from the high altitudes of the North, or the long English winters, the pure air of the Cape Peninsula is an immediate and sure pick-me-up. It is rightly claimed as one of the finest and most bracing climates in the world, with no extremes of heat and cold, the difference between the maximum and minimum temperature being less than in other parts of South Africa. This freedom from sudden change is, of course, of great importance to the Peninsula as a health resort, and together with the bright sunshine and magnificent air has proved of inestimable value to invalids recuperating their strength.

For a period of eleven years the average bright sunshine was 3,000 hours, the highest average being in January with 345 hours, and the lowest in June with 166 hours. The average rainfall for the same period was 21.67 inches. The mean annual temperature is about 63 degrees Fahrenheit, which is equal to that of Naples.

Almost surrounded by the sea, the breezes and air currents charged with ozone secure a constant freshness and purity of atmosphere. Residence in the Peninsula will therefore aid those who are constitutionally weak, and will promote increased physical and mental energy in the healthy.

ALWAYS IN SEASON. The Cape Peninsula experiences no drawbacks of seasons. The period of barren sombreness generally associated with winter plays no part in the climate. Visitors during the Spring, early Summer and Autumn have all the advantages of beautiful weather ; the Winter season may be compared to that of an English Spring, and extends over June, July and August, when the air is particularly invigorating and beneficial.

NATURAL BEAUTIES. The wonderful natural beauties of the Peninsula give it the foremost place amongst the resorts of South Africa. It has no need to depend upon gala seasons to attract visitors. The Mountain, the glistening sands and gleaming seas around its shores, the health-laden breezes and invigorating warmth of its climate, and its famous hinterland, are the settings which give the Cape Peninsula its endless charm and a fascination peculiar to itself alone.

GROOTE SCHUUR, RONDEBOSCH.

TABLE MOUNTAIN. The Mountain and its slopes have ever been foremost in gratifying the pleasure-seeking eye. Here Nature is shown in one of her inimitable productions and here is a region of Nature's richest abundance. To the upward gaze there is a grandeur in the buttresses and the flat table top ; the rocky mass with deep cleft gorges where gloom and rich verdure add magnificence and mystery to the uptowering heights. It is grandest in its contrast with the blue waters of Table Bay, the well-laid streets and handsome buildings at its base, and this contrast is not the least of the attractions. On the one hand there is Devil's Peak, called by the early Dutch settlers " De Winberg " (The Wind Mountain), while on the other side of the town the gentle upward curve of Signal Hill leads gradually to the bold thrust of Lion's Head, so called because of its resemblance at a distance to a lion couchant. It springs from verdure clad slopes whose mellow browns and greens and dazzle of silver trees are broken by feathery yellows of grassy undergrowth.

Away beyond the Table continues the mountain range, banked by clustering trees and radiant bush. Here is the region of Cape Flora, unique in many forms. Its glens are fairylands of colour, orange masses of marigolds, gleaming patches of watsonias and africanders, rich carpets of rainbow-tinted wild figs, all blended in one harmonious whole that fills the visitor with delight. A thoughtful Forest Department and Council have brought these beauties within the range of all by the provision of well-defined contour paths along the mountain slopes.

GROOTE SCHUUR. Prompted by a kindly consideration for the people, the late Rt. Hon. C. J. Rhodes presented the Groote Schuur Estate, a perpetual free gift of gateless, unrestricted pleasure land. Typical of Cape Colonial Architecture, Groote Schuur is worthy of all that is best in South Africa. The estate, covering an area of many miles, is laid out in gardens, woodland walks, roaming grounds for South African buck, zebra and other animals. There is an open-air zoo containing a good collection of lions and other wild animals and birds, and higher up on the mountain slopes stands the Classical Monument, the Rhodes' Memorial and Watt's statue of " Physical Energy," erected by the nation to the memory of Mr. Rhodes, who never spared himself in the service of the country. Behind the Memorial towers Table Mountain and Devil's Peak, and on the other hand the vast outlook over Table Bay and the Cape Flats, bordered in the distance by the Hottentots Holland Mountains, giving as much delight to visitors as they did to the great South African who chose the region as his place of abode.

SEASIDE RESORTS.

With such well-known resorts as Muizenberg, St. James, Kalk Bay, Fish Hoek on the False Bay Coast and Sea Point, Clifton-on-Sea, and Camp's Bay on the Atlantic Ocean, Cape Town offers the visitor a wide choice of holiday centres.

The False Bay Resorts are within sixteen miles of Cape Town and may be reached by an excellent service of express electric trains or by motor car, whilst Sea Point and Camp's Bay are within easy distance by tram and bus from the centre of the City. At both these resorts there are attractive bathing pavilions with large open-air swimming baths. A magnificent marine drive extends from a point just outside the City through Sea Point and Clifton-on-Sea to Camp's Bay.

MILNERTON

The newly-constructed Marine Drive circling Table Bay leads to yet another of the Cape Peninsula Seaside Resorts. Milnerton, although in its infancy as a Resort, promises to be most attractive. There is good bathing, bracing air both summer and winter, and most attractive surroundings. Here also is the famous Ascot Race Course, and provision is made for Tennis, Bowls, etc., there is also a fine 18-hole golf course, near the sea.

Some Attractions.

THE SEA.

Surely no other place can boast such perfection for paddling or for bathers. At Muizenberg and the other False Bay resorts, bathing—which is indulged in all the day long—can be enjoyed under the most favourable conditions in the open sea, the coast being free from the dangerous backwash so common to South African shores, and the water free from sharks. Up-to-date bathing pavilions have been erected at Muizenberg, Kalk Bay, Sea Point and Camp's Bay, and the water is warm enough at the former two for bathing to be enjoyed the whole year round.

At Muizenberg surf bathing is the popular attraction, and thousands of visitors go there yearly to indulge in this fascinating and health-giving sport.

NATIONAL BOTANIC GARDENS.

The establishment of a National Botanic Gardens at Kirstenbosch has already commanded the interest and support of the representatives of the whole nation, and on all grounds the site chosen is worthy of its destiny.

Those who know it are convinced that no botanic garden in the world has greater natural beauties, and it is anticipated that in a year or two botanists will be tempted to come from every part of the world for no other purpose than to see the National Botanic Gardens at Kirstenbosch.

The gardens are open to the public, and may be reached by tram or bus to Protea Road, Newlands. Full particulars with regard to the motor service from there may be obtained at the Visitors' Bureau.

THE CASTLE.

Commenced in 1666, the Castle to-day is hemmed in between the railway and the road to the southern suburbs. Obsolete it may be, and inadequate as a means of protection, but it is a heritage from the hands of those who laid the foundation upon which has been reared the South Africa of to-day. Open daily, except Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 to 5 p.m. A charge of 6d. is made for the services of the guide.

PUBLIC LIBRARY.

THE MUSEUM. Situated in Government Avenue, this institution, which dates from 1855, is open daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., and on Sundays from 2 to 5 p.m. Collections are zoological, anthropological and antiquarian.

THE ART GALLERY. The South African Art Gallery, founded in 1872, is housed in an annexe to the South African Museum. The Galleries are open daily, except Sundays, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

THE MICHAELIS GALLERY Cape Town is singularly fortunate in its possession of a collection of old Masters that will bear favourable comparison to any gallery of its size in Europe.

Sir Max Michaelis' most generous gift to the Union of sixty-eight great paintings by famous Dutch and Flemish Masters of the seventeenth century has now been housed in the old Town House, Greenmarket Square, and opened to the public since October, 1916, and to judge alone by the number of visitors to the gallery, South Africa is most thoroughly appreciating its artistic possession. The small, formal garden at the back of the building serves as a pleasant retreat.

This Gallery is open daily, October to March, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., April to September from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Sundays 2 to 5 p.m.

KOOPMANS DE WET MUSEUM. Situate in Strand Street, just beyond Burg Street, the house, which probably represents the strongest connecting link between Old Cape Town and the new, has been purchased for the Nation, together with the more valuable examples of old Dutch furniture contained therein. Open daily, except Sundays, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.

LIBRARY. Founded in 1818 by Lord Charles Somerset, and described as "the bright eye of the Cape" by Sir John Herschel so long as 80 years ago, the Cape Town Library is a veritable national treasure. Situated in Government Avenue. Open 9 a.m. to 10 p.m. (Weekdays.)

A GREEN AND PLEASANT COUNTRYSIDE: NEAR NOORDHOEK.

BOATING AND YACHTING

Table Bay has long thrown off the suspicions of danger which had been allotted to it by fearsome mariners. For months it has the placidity of the proverbial millpond, and its waters teem with holiday makers in rowing craft, motor-launches and white-sailed yachts. The sea excursions by motor-launch commence at Adderley Street Pier, where rowing boats may also be obtained.

Yachting forms another attraction of Table Bay, and during the season important races are promoted by the Royal Cape Yacht Club, provoking keen interest and lively competition. Regattas are held, and the races can be watched from the pier and sea promenade.

SEA FISHING.

All appliances for deep-sea fishing can be obtained from the owners of boats at Kalk Bay Harbour, Simonstown and Table Bay, who have every convenience to enable the visitor to indulge his fancy. For those who prefer wielding the rod, the coast line with its innumerable rocks offers inducements which are unrivalled in South Africa. No matter where the angler goes, he can never complain of the quality of the sport provided for him. Everything in the way of tackle can be procured in Cape Town.

TROUT FISHING.

May be obtained within easy reach of Cape Town in the various rivers and vleis. The local season is from the 1st October to the 15th January.

THE PIER.

The new pier is one of the finest in the world, its total length, including the approaches, being 1,800 feet. The shore end, which is open to vehicular traffic, has a width of 100 feet, and leads up to a " circus," 200 feet in diameter, where the statue of Johan van Riebeeck, founder of the Cape Colony, occupies a commanding position. At the sea end there is a bandstand, refreshment rooms, observation tower, as also landing stages for pleasure craft. Facilities for bathing and fishing are provided, and there are concerts by the Cape Town Orchestra and other entertainments during the season.

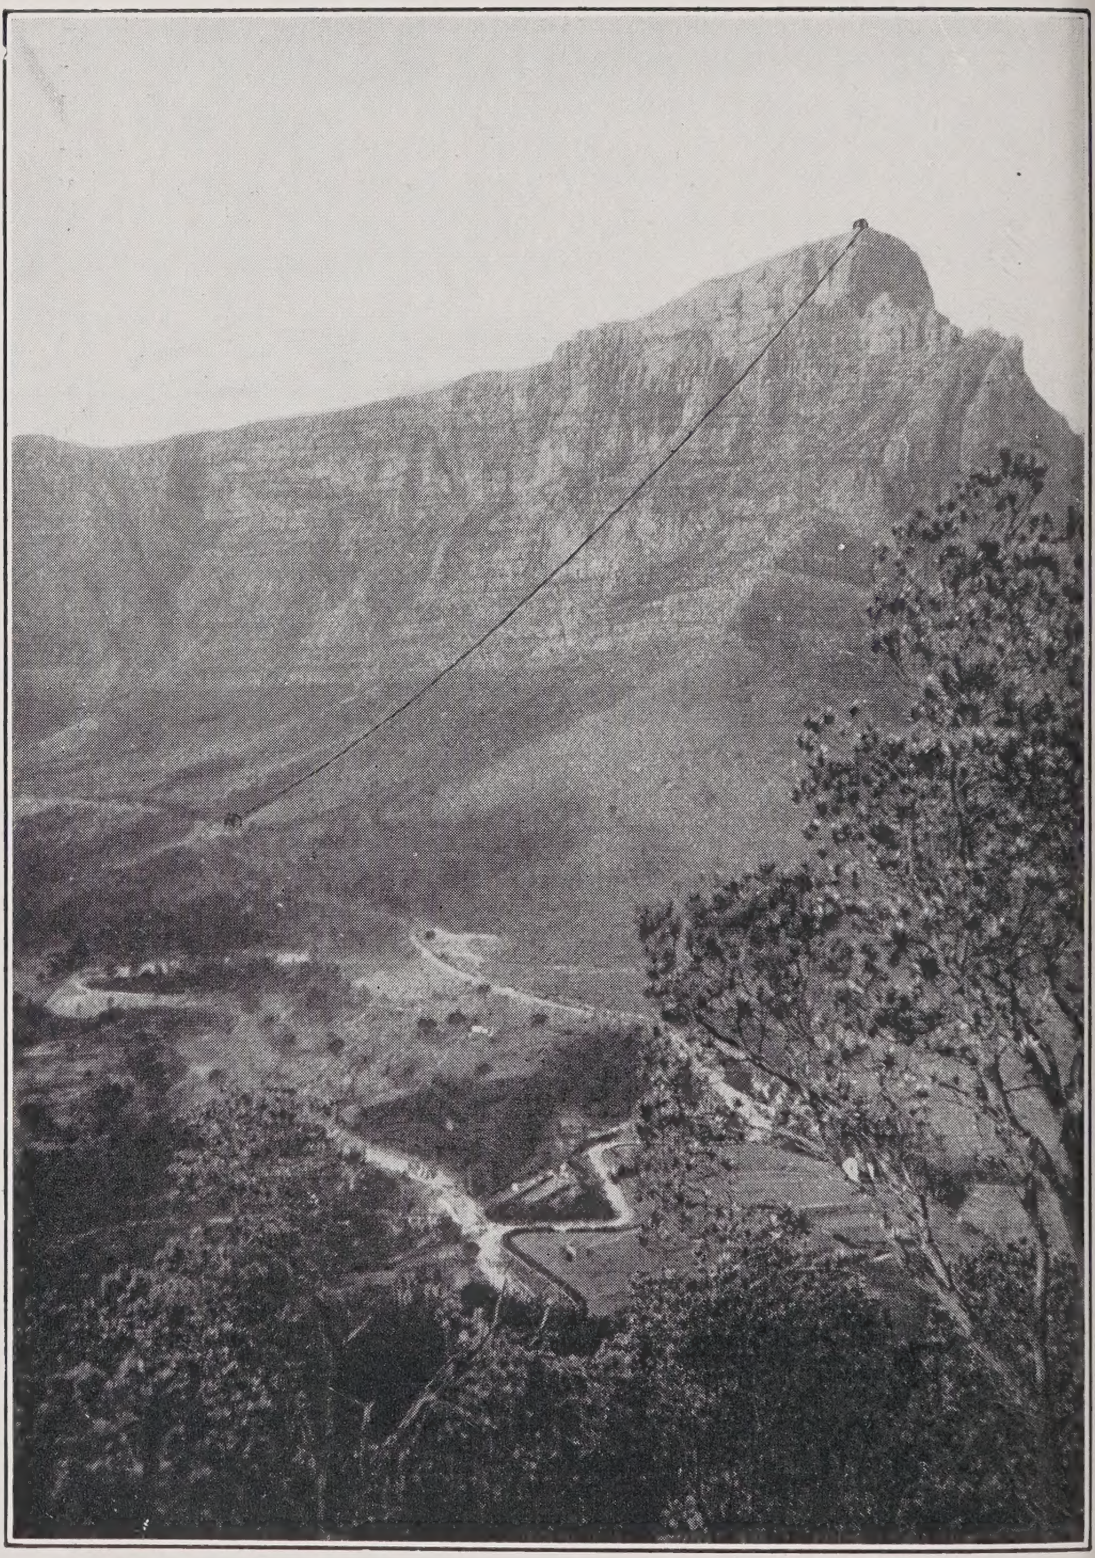

TABLE MOUNTAIN CABLEWAY FROM THE SLOPE OF LION'S HEAD.

ROUND TABLE MOUNTAIN.

The popular drive of thirty-three miles round Table Mountain by way of Sea Point and Camp's Bay along the Victoria Road to Hout Bay, returning through Groot Constantia and the suburbs of Wynberg, Kenilworth, Newlands and Rondebosch, constitutes a spectacle which is unrivalled in the world's beauty spots, embracing as it does some of the most magnificent scenery in the world, varying from the beautifully curving bays at the base of rugged peaks on the seaward side to a perfection of foliage and cultivation which covers the rich lands on the inward slopes.

The extension of this road beyond Kommetje to join up with the Red Hill Road, completes the "Round the Peninsula Road," and the road ranks as one of the finest marine drives in the world.

Motor buses leave daily for this trip, from the Charabanc Stand, Lower Adderley Street, where full information regarding fares and times of departure may be obtained.

The extension of the road from Hout Bay round Chapman's Peak through Noordhoek to Fish Hoek has now been completed, and every visitor to the Cape Peninsula should make a point of taking this magnificent drive. All information regarding motor buses, cars, etc., may be obtained at the Visitors' Bureau.

"FLYING" TO TABLE MOUNTAIN.

During 1929 an engineering undertaking will be completed which is in many respects unique and which should prove one of the greatest attractions the Peninsula can offer. The Table Mountain Aerial Cableway, designed on the lines of the new European Tourist cableways which have proved such a great success, will enable visitors to reach the top of Table Mountain in 20 minutes from Adderley Street or in less than half-an-hour from the ship's side in the Docks. A winding motor road, among beautiful surroundings and affording an unrivalled view of the City, is being constructed from Kloof Nek to the lower station of the Cableway and from there the aerial cars, each with accommodation for 19 passengers, will run to the Mountain top in about 5 minutes. The enormously strong carrying cables are over 4,000 ft. long, the route chosen enabling this distance to be taken in one span, thus avoiding all the trouble connected with intermediate supports and making this the safest and most smooth-travelling cableway in existence.

SURF-BATHING.

On top, a restaurant, with open terraces for summer weather and a large hall with fireplaces for colder days, will await the visitors. The grandiose surroundings, the exhilarating air, the wonderful view (from one standpoint three world-oceans may be seen!)—all will combine to make this trip unforgettable, whether it be in summer, when the cool breezes form a pleasant change from the heat of the City, or in winter when the Mountain top is usually bathed in sunshine though the landscape below may be veiled in mist and haze.

GOVERNMENT AVENUE. The main artery for pedestrians between the City and the residential part known as "The Gardens." The avenue itself is one of ancient oaks, and is over half-a-mile long.

MUNICIPAL GARDENS. Adjoining the Library, Government Avenue. Free to the public. Good supply of seats for visitors. Flowers, plants and trees peculiar to the country. These Gardens have a great charm for botanists and horticulturists and contain over 8,000 varieties of trees and plants. The orchid houses are a feature of the Gardens. Statues of Sir George Grey and Cecil Rhodes are erected in the Gardens. Tea Room.

THE CLAREMONT PUBLIC GARDENS. are situated on the Main Road, Claremont, within five minutes of the railway station and may also be reached by tramcar which passes the main entrance.

These gardens hold one of the most wonderful collections of trees in the Peninsula—trees from China, Japan, Ceylon, India, Australia, New Zealand, etc., which have been collected and planted there regardless of expense. One of the finest collections of rhododendrons in South Africa is to be found there, also a remarkable collection of azaleas and some exquisite double-flowering peach trees and plum trees from China. Many of the trees and rhododendrons are at least thirty years old, and a host of interesting coniferous specimens are established in the Gardens. The small lake has a collection of valuable waterlilies and other aquatic plants which, in themselves, form a matter of considerable interest.

THE MOUNTAIN TRAM RIDE. A wonderful feat of engineering is the tram line from Cape Town to Camp's Bay, over the Kloof between Table Mountain and Lion's Head. The visitor is undoubtedly well rewarded in taking the tram ride, which is considered by experts to be unequalled in the world. The most perfect bird's-eye view of Cape Town stretching down to the water's edge is obtained, and as the visitor rounds the Kloof and the City is lost to view, his gaze is suddenly attracted to Camp's Bay, many hundred feet below him, which springs into vision as he makes his descent on the other side. The beautiful effect is considerably enhanced by moonlight. The circular tour covers a distance of 11½ miles, and occupies 1¾ hours. The visitor may, however, break his journey at Camp's Bay.

MOTORING. The Cape Peninsula stands unrivalled in South Africa as a motoring centre. The roads are maintained in good condition. There are excellent garages in the City and suburbs, where good cars can be obtained on hire at reasonable rates.

MUNICIPAL TURKISH BATHS Spacious and modern Turkish Baths have been erected at the top of Long Street, near the Houses of Parliament, Mount Nelson Hotel and Municipal Gardens. Special days for Ladies.

GOLFING IN CAPE PENINSULA.

Sport and Amusement.

Golf.

Wynberg.

The Links of the Royal Cape Golf Club are situated on the Cape Flats about half-way between Capetown and Muizenberg. The spacious and well-equipped club house is on the right of the Ottery Road about one mile from Wynberg Station. Luncheon and tea are obtainable at any time, and the club house is fully licensed. The 18-hole course has been recently re-arranged in two loops of nine holes radiating from the club house. Many of the holes have been re-constructed so that the lay-out now presents an adequate test of Championship Golf, while at the same time affording a pleasurable game to the average player. Among the special features of these links are the beautiful grass greens and tees, the turf-covered fairways, the reedy "rough" mingled with heather and a constant succession of rare and beautiful flowers, and the clean white sandy soil which makes play a pleasure through all seasons of the year. Unobstructed and everchanging views of the glorious mountain ranges lying to the East and West, present themselves from all parts of the links. The climate is ideal for golf all the year round, the hottest days of Summer being invariably tempered by cool sea breezes from the Indian Ocean.

The total length of the course is 6,504 yds. Bogey 79.

The fees at present payable are as follows :—

Mondays to Fridays (inclusive).

Subject to the above limitations in the hours of play, lady members enjoy the same privileges on the course as gentlemen members.

Secretary: Captain L. Caminada.

Professional: W. H. Smith.

Greenkeeper: W. Dawson.

Rondebosch.

The links of the Rondebosch Golf Club are conveniently situated amidst picturesque scenery, and are on the Camp Ground Road, about 4 miles from Cape Town. They are an easy walk from Rondebosch Station (about 5 minutes). The course is of a sporting nature, and the player who pulls or slices is in for trouble. The greens, which are of grass, are excellent, and the fairways throughout are good, though sandy lies may be expected in the summer. Numerous artificial sand bunkers are encountered, and during the winter, when the hazards retain the rains, many foozled drives are trapped.

The course of 18 holes is 4,836 yards in length. The length of the holes varies from 110 to 470 yards. The bogey score is 75 and requires good golf to equal. S. G. Moore is the professional in charge, and greenkeeper; his services as coach are available almost at any time for members and visitors, though an appointment should be made, if possible. Telephone No. 0051 Claremont.

The green fee on weekdays is 1/6 per day and on Saturdays, Sundays and Public Holidays 2/- per day. Visitors may pay a monthly fee of 12/6. Members' annual subscription is £3. with an entrance fee of £4 4s. Ladies' entrance fee is £1 11s. 6d., with a subscription of £1 5s. per annum.

A well-appointed Club House is adjacent to the first tee.

Light refreshments are available at any time.

Caddies are available.

The Hon. Secretary is Mr. H. K. Lewis and any enquiries addressed to him or the Professional will receive prompt attention. The latter is resident upon the Club premises.

The present Champion of the Club is Mr. R. D. Wheeler.

Green Point.

The golf course within easiest reach of Cape Town is that of the Metropolitan Golf Club. This course is beautifully situated at Green Point, five minutes distant from Adderley Street, either by tram or bus. The freshness of the sea breezes and the magnificent mountain scenery, as well as proximity to Cape Town, make this course a most popular one. The links consist of nine holes, the longest hole being 540 yards. All the putting greens are of grass, and the natural difficulties through the course add to the attractiveness of the links. There is a commodious Club House where luncheon or tea may be had, and the Professional is always to be found on the links or at the Club House. The bogey for the course is 38 for the nine holes, and the total length of the course is 2,850 yards. Ladies are debarred from playing on Saturday afternoons and public holidays. Ladies' days are Tuesdays and Fridays—Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays up to 4 p.m.

Visitors have the privilege of playing on the links any day including Sundays (except Saturdays and public holidays) when the links are open on payment of the following green fees: 2s. 6d. for 18 holes, 5s. per week, £1 1s. 0d. per month; 10s. 6d. per month for ladies.

The Caddie fees are: Double round, 1s. Single round, 7d.

Hon. Secretary and Treasurer: Mr. H. A. Solomon, Box 2263, Cape Town. 'Phone 2263 Central, or 19 Sea Point. Club Professional, Mr. B. H. Elkin, ex-South African and Transvaal and present O.F.S. Champion.

Mowbray.

The Mowbray golf course is situated on the farm "Raapenberg"; covering some hundred acres of beautiful park-like land, long famed as the favourite habitat of many varieties of the Cape flora, and commanding most entrancing views of Table Mountain and the distant Hottentots Holland and Stellenbosch ranges.

All the year round the course is in splendid condition, and every year has seen a marked improvement since it was first laid out in 1911. The fairways are wide and afford good lies; whilst water has been laid on to all the fine undulating grass greens, which are of generous dimensions and provide ample scope for the exercise of good judgment in the holing of long putts. The holes are of considerable variety and are of a very interesting character. The 10th, in particular, with its fine approach over a succession of "rolling billows," is generally conceded by all who know it to be one of the finest natural golfing holes in South Africa. The bogey is 77 and the total length of the course 6,150 yards.

The course is very favourably situated as regards railway facilities, Raapenberg Station (Cape Flats Line) being right on the course, with a conveniently arranged service of trains from both Cape Town and Muizenberg-Kalk Bay, enabling visitors to the False Bay holiday resorts to combine the pleasures of a daily round with residence at the seaside. Residents on the Wynberg Line find Mowbray Station within easy distance of the links.

The Club rejoices in the possession of a comfortable Club House, where luncheons, etc., are always obtainable at moderate charges. Greenkeeper, Mr. H. Colclough.

The professional (Mr. F. C. Bayley) is always in attendance for coaching, etc., and has supplies to meet all the requirements of the most fastidious of golfers.

For visitors the Green Fees are 2s. 6d. (Saturday afternoon, Sundays before 3 p.m. and Public Holidays 5s.) per day, 15s. per week or £1 11s. 6d. per month ; Ladies and Juniors 1s. per day. Caddie Fee 1s. per round.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. C. G. M. Walton) will be pleased to answer any inquiries.

Bowls.

This is a pastime which has taken a great hold on South Africa and much enthusiasm is evinced during the S.A. Championship Tournament which is held annually.

There are excellent bowling greens at Three Anchor Bay, Gardens, Rondebosch, Wynberg, Muizenberg, Mowbray, Observatory, Salt River, Plumstead, Retreat, Claremont and Camp's Bay, where provision is made for temporary members.

Lawn Tennis.

The Western Province Lawn Tennis Association Courts are at Rondebosch, at the top of Highstead Road (Hon. Secretary : Mr. H. M. Steele, Glen Darach, Rondebosch). There are, in addition, no less than twenty clubs affiliated to the Association.

Cricket.

The chief cricket grounds in the Peninsula are at Newlands, Rosebank and Green Point, where provision is made for temporary members. The season extends from October to April.

Football.

Rugby.—The Western Province Rugby Union headquarters are at Newlands, where Rugby football of a high standard can be witnessed every Saturday during the season.

Association.—The headquarters of the Association game are at Hartleyvale, Observatory Road.

Race Meetings.

S.A. Turf Club.—Frequent meetings organised by this Club are held at Kenilworth. The course, which is considered one of the most attractive in South Africa, is situated within easy walking distance of Kenilworth Station.

Milnerton Turf Club.—Meetings are also held at Milnerton, situated on the shores of Table Bay, five miles from Cape Town. Frequent trains take one right to the course. The meetings are usually held on Saturdays and public holidays.

Sports Meetings.

Sports meetings are held at intervals at the Cycle Track on Green Point Common.

Music and Entertainment.

With a first-class Orchestra, a Municipal Choral Society, a College of Music, and various Choral and Musical Societies, Cape Town gives place to no other city in South Africa as a musical centre, and has a deservedly high reputation. The concerts of the Municipal Choral Society offer an opportunity for hearing the best singers, and this is a source of delight to both students and the general public ; and there are also the Cape Town Orchestra concerts. Apart from these concerts, which give the local artistes and societies opportunity for the rendering of musical works of a high order, every inducement is offered to those who delight in hearing the famous singers and players who visit South Africa, of whom there have been not a few. The City Hall and the Pier play a prominent part in providing the venue for concerts of choice selection which the public are able to enjoy at moderate cost. No visitor to Cape Town should miss the chance of hearing the celebrated organ in the City Hall. Organ recitals are held at the City Hall every Tuesday from 1.15 to 1.40 p.m.

Dramatic performances of a first-class nature and the latest musical comedies produced in London are staged professionally at the Opera House. Cape Town has also many amateur dramatic societies, and public performances are given by these from time to time.

The Tivoli Music Hall provides high-class variety entertainments and there are numerous up-to-date bioscope halls throughout the Peninsula.

The Cape Town Orchestra.

The City Council have now taken over control of the Cape Town Orchestra, consisting of thirty professional players. Performances are given during the summer season on the Pier at the foot of Adderley Street, both in the afternoon and evening; the Orchestra also performs at Sea Point, Camp's Bay and in the City Hall. For the winter season orchestral concerts are held in the City Hall. The Thursday and Saturday evening concerts are given at popular prices. There are also concerts at the City Hall on Sunday evenings and in the southern suburbs during the winter. Mr. W. J. Pickerill is the Conductor of the Orchestra. For the Thursday Concerts in the City Hall, the Orchestra is augmented to forty players.

Broadcasting.

Broadcasting has been a success in Cape Town for some years, and owes its inception to the energies of the Committee of the Cape Peninsula Publicity Association. It is now under the control of the South African Broadcasting Company giving an even better scope for good programmes.

Rambles in the Cape Peninsula.

There are many interesting rambles throughout the Peninsula, amongst which the following are recommended:

To Cape Point from Simonstown.

(Time: Two days.)

Setting out from Simonstown with a plentiful supply of food for the trip, the coast is followed, through Miller's Point (4 miles) to Smitswinkel Bay (7 miles) where the road is 450 feet above sea level. At this point the road turns inland for a few hundred yards in order to skirt the ravine. Turning off on our left we follow the road to Smith's farm (14 miles), where accommodation is obtainable, and before proceeding to Cape Point (17 miles) we may deposit the bulk of our kit, if we intend to return to the farm for the night. The homeward journey may be shortened by taking the road to the left at the junction with the Smitswinkel Bay road, skirting the landward side of Simonsberg, descending to Simonstown by the Red Hill road.

To Groote Schuur via the Kloof Nek and the Mountain Face Road.

(Time: Three hours.)

Leaving Adderley Street by the Camp's Bay car we alight at the Kloof Nek and take the path leading along the face of the mountain in the direction of Devil's Peak. Passing Platte Klip Gorge after half-an-hour's walk we follow the well-defined path until we plunge into a fir plantation, and, continuing straight ahead, enter the Groote Schuur Estate. Passing through the gate we take the sharp turn to the left, following a zig-zag path down to the Rhodes' Memorial. A few minutes' walk from here brings us to the main road and the tram to Adderley Street.

WOODLAND BEAUTY.

A Good Snapshot— Every Time !

IF you are a photographer it will interest you to know that more pictures are taken on "Kodak" Film than on any other film in the world. This is because amateur photographers have learned from experience that they can rely upon "Kodak" Film in all climates and in all weathers. They rely upon its uniformity, its speed and its keeping quality and also upon its wonderful latitude. This quality of latitude is perhaps the most important of all—it makes a generous allowance for errors of exposure. You get a good picture every time on "Kodak" Film because whatever your error may be, within reason, the latitude of the Film will correct it. That is why "Kodak" Film is known all over the world as the dependable film in the yellow carton.

SAUVIGNON BLANC "PRIZE CUP"

To Noordhoek and Kommetje via Fish Hoek.

(Time : One day.)

Proceeding to Fish Hoek by an early train we turn to the left from the station, taking the road to the right after a walk of a few hundred yards.

Some three miles from Fish Hoek the road diverges to the right to Noordhoek and to the left to Kommetje. Noordhoek consists of a few picturesque Dutch homesteads and numerous small cottages occupied by vegetable farmers. Proceeding from the homestead in the centre of the village towards the slopes of the mountain, a walk of twenty minutes will bring us to the most extensive area of indigenous trees to be found within easy distance of Cape Town. Returning to the homestead we may continue along the road until we reach a point where the road takes a sharp right hand turn, where we continue down a bridle path leading to Chapman's beach and thence to Kommetje, a small seaside village on the Atlantic.

National Botanic Gardens, Kirstenbosch.

Visitors may reach the gardens by three principal routes :—

1. By De Waal road from Roeland Street via Groote Schuur, by a singularly interesting road commanding at various points magnificent views over the Cape Flats (about 7 miles).
2. From Newlands or Claremont Station via Protea Road to Bishopscourt (about 2½ miles).
3. From Wynberg Station via Wynberg Park. Beyond the Park the road runs close to the ridge and alongside "Van Riebeck's Hedge," an old colonial boundary ; a very fine view of Kirstenbosch and the neighbouring slopes is obtained from this road.

To Camp's Bay via Constantia Nek.

(Time : Six hours.)

Train to Wynberg and thence by car to Constantia Nek Arriving at the Nek we take the mountain path leading off on the right a little to the Hout Bay side of the Nek. In a little while we reach a barbed wire fence, and following this downwards we make for a clump of oaks. Taking the first turning of the path to the right we pass through a grove of orange trees, and coming to a thatched cottage on our right turn sharply to the left and cross the stream by stepping stones. We then follow a path leading to the left in the direction of Hout Bay, through bracken and trees along the mountain side. The path winds diagonally upwards among the boulders to Hout Bay Nek. We then follow the Victoria Road to Camp's Bay, passing en route Sand Bay, Hottentots Huis, Oude Kraal and Bakoven Bay.

N.B.--A variation of the walk may be made by following the road from Constantia Nek down to Hout Bay and thence by road to Camp's Bay. The distance from Wynberg to Hout Bay is 10 miles, and from Hout Bay to Camp's Bay $8\frac{1}{2}$ miles.

THE MOUNT NELSON HOTEL is a conspicuous feature of the green-clad lower slopes of Table Mountain, opposite and at the top of Government Avenue. Every window commands a free prospect, ranging from the Devil's Peak on the one side to the Lion's Head and the down-trending spur of the Signal Hill on the other. The Garden front faces the North and offers a lovely panorama, with the beautiful green expanse of the Avenue in the immediate foreground, the roofs and spires of the City in the middle distance, and the blue waters of the Bay and the softening outline of the Blaauwberg Mountains in the background. On this open and elevated spot the sea breeze tempers the heat of the warmest days, while the extent of the grounds secures the visitor against the constant noise which is such a drawback to hotels less fortunately situated.

Lighted throughout by Electric Light. Sanitary arrangements of the most modern description. Electric Lifts. Accommodation for 175 Visitors. Luxuriously furnished Suites of Apartments; Private Sitting Rooms, etc. 40 additional Private Bathrooms recently installed, providing many double and also single bedrooms with bathrooms en suite.
